Friends of the Brecon Beacons is a charity run entirely by volunteers, whose aims include the protection and conservation of the National Park for the benefit of the public.

What do we do?

- We provide one of the best and most varied guided walks programmes in the UK, with over 200 walks a year – around four each week.
- We provide members with a quarterly online newsletter.
- We lead and support initiatives for the protection and enhancement of the Park such as the International Dark Sky Reserve and helping to manage the Geopark.
- Organise regular talks, free to members on matters of interest.
- We monitor Rights of Way and scrutinise and comment on planning applications which may affect the Park.
- We work closely with the Bannau Brycheiniog National Park Authority on several projects and initiatives
- We work as a member of the Alliance for Welsh Designated Landscapes, working with the other Welsh National Parks Societies and the Campaign for National Parks on issues across both England and Wales affecting the National Parks, and the Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONBs).

The Society is a voluntary organisation open to everyone.

As a member, and for a very reasonable annual cost, you will enjoy free access to guided walks and our monthly talks and volunteering activities. You will receive our quarterly online newsletter, with opportunities to influence wider discussions on national park issues.

Further details about what we do and how to join are on our website: www.breconbeaconsparkociety.org
